

PLAN ELECTION AT PAHOKEE ON IMPROVEMENTS

Resolution Ready For Adoption At Town Council Meeting Tonight

PROPOSED BOND ISSUE
OF TOTAL OF $65,000

Water Works, Street Repair and Sidewalk Construction Proposed

A resolution is to be introduced at the meeting of the Pahokee town council tonight for an election on a proposition to issue bonds for water works and street repair and sidewalk construction. The resolution, prepared by E. W. Bass, town attorney, recites the need of water for fire protection and sanitation as well as for domestic use, and faces $50,000 as the estimate of the maximum cost of pump, pump house, filtration and purification plant, mains and other material and equipment. Seven thousand dollars is the sum proposed for street work and $8,000 for the town's share of the cost of sidewalks. The total of the proposed bond issues is $65,000. As 30 days notice is provided for the resolution in its present form fixes May 13 as the date of the election.

Pahokee is probably the largest town in the state without a municipal water supply. The town with the State Board have been frequent on account of the lack of water to flush toilets and maintain sanitary conditions. The town is wholly without fire protection, and the ordinance for laying sidewalks on established grade. With assessed valuation far below actual values, the taxable value of the real estate is nearly half a million dollars and the town has no bonded indebtedness. A steady increase in population is foreseen to bring on an crisis unless the public improvements that are proposed are undertaken soon.

Copies Can Be Had of Lake Levee Report

The latest plans and estimates of cost of flood control and improvement of navigation in the Okeechobee drainage area are available in Senate Document No. 10, which was received at the office of The Everglades News by the courtesy of Senator Duncan U. Fletcher. The document contains the letter from the Chief of Engineers of the United States Army to the Chairman of the Committee on Commerce, of which Senator Fletcher is a member. Persons who want a copy of the report probably can obtain it by writing to Senator Fletcher at Washington and giving the number, Senate Document No. 115.

EXPECT VALUES TO GO HIGHER

Army Engineers Say Lake Control Will Put Land In Production

Land values will be increased by the providing of flood control for the upper Everglades, it is said by the Chief of Engineers of the United States Army. The Army, in a memorandum dated 30 days ago, says that the land values will be increased by the providing of flood control for the upper Everglades, it is said by the Chief of Engineers of the United States Army. The land directly affected by lake levee protection is estimated at 185,000 acres. An increase of productivity of $3 per acre is sufficient to pay interest and provide a sinking fund for the cost of the levees. STILL CONSIDER CUT-OFF LEVEE

Army engineers are not yet considering and have rejected the plan to cut off the levee at the point of the lake. The alternative to immediate improvement of West Palm Beach canal is to build a series of levees for discharge. As high levees of other canals will cause the water to rise higher, the levee is made clear, as an expedient for protection.

OF CONSTANT DANGER

Points To Need of Large Outlet For Canal At West Palm Beach

The urgent need of enlarged facilities for the better control of Lake Okeechobee was again on Monday when in response to rains West Palm Beach canal rose and water rushed down the lake to the west, running to the lake instead of to the ocean, and the result was a drowning of the spring crop. USE OF ST. LUCIE CANAL LOCK AS VIEWED BY STUART PAPER

From The Stuart Daily News.

The opening of the east locks in the St. Lucie canal, permitting a large amount of muddy water to pour into the lake, St. Lucie river, has been a matter of considerable concern to the people of Stuart and vicinity for thirty days. Because it is a subject of vital importance to the community, this newspaper has sought and obtained the facts. These are presented here faithfully and clearly, in the hope that they will be read carefully and studied intelligently. They present a much greater problem than the average reader has even dreamed of.

Let us say, to start with, that the locks will not be closed now. The other outstanding fact is that next year, the locks will not be closed. John interest in the Everglades and its industries was expressed by the Right Reverend John D. Bishop, D. D., bishop conductor of the St. Paul, Fla., who visited this section Monday in company of Rev. Wm. P. S. Lander, rector of the Holy Trinity at West Palm Beach, and was shown about by E. B. Bryant, vice president of the Southern Sugar Company. The bishop has his residence at Winter Park, Rev. Lander is quite well acquainted with the upper Glades, but until now Bishop Wing's contact with the country had been merely as a passer-by. Bishop Wing had visited churches on the east coast, and his presence in West Palm Beach enabled him to make this side-trip to the Everglades.

TREES IN HOUSE
When W. B. Thornton enclosed a porch at his house on Canal Point road in Pahokee he was not thinking of the fact that the floor was there, and when he built on another room he enclosed another tree, and when he extended a porch he built the roof over another tree, so there are three trees in the house. Mr. Thornton says the openings in the roof let water in on rainy days but site is willing to stand it in order that the trees be preserved. The property belongs to the Oklawaha Corporation.

The Glades And Its Affairs

Residents want low lake level—that was the heading over last week in this paper last week, and it stated a fact, but it told only one fact and it did not touch on some other matters that also are important. An important fact is that if the lake is low there is not enough water for irrigation and navigation, and residents want facilities for irrigation and navigation almost as much as they want a low level of the lake to prevent them from being drowned, but it is up to the Federal government to provide the navigation facilities, just as it is up to the individual to provide irrigation.

More than any other canal, West Palm Beach canal which extends from Canal Point to West Palm Beach, ought to be used for the control of Lake Okeechobee—that is, to keep the lake from overflowing. It is shorter than any other route except the canal that discharges at Stuart—and Stuart people do not want the discharge made there. Water from near St. Lucie can run into the West Palm Beach canal any way. Land around Oklawaha and South Bay can be reclaimed and used for West Palm Beach better than southward to Fort Lauderdale, for the distance is shorter. If any canal is to be improved for navigation that canal ought to be the West Palm Beach canal.

Chevrolet and Fords are the only cars that are being bought by Everglades nowadays. This is quite a comment for navigation that canal ought to be the West Palm Beach canal.

Chevrolet and Fords are the only cars that are being bought by Everglades nowadays. This is quite a comment for navigation that canal ought to be the West Palm Beach canal.

It is due to the low price of green beans that more Chevrolets and Fords are being bought. A lot of Everglades don't want to believe it, but the day of high-priced green beans is passed, and that means that the day of high-priced land has also passed. The leaf and bunch vegetables have more vim and more health-giving and health-preserving qualities, and the figures of consumption show that the use of leaf and bunch vegetables is increasing like the use of other vegetables. The smart trucker in the Everglades will plant to grow more leaf and bunch vegetables, and less beans, and he will stop paying $30 cash rent and use that $30 an acre to buy some cheap land back of the ridge.

Hundreds of truckers broke themselves trying to grow beans and tomatoes at Moore Haven. The bean growers refused to go into other lines—they stuck to beans and tomatoes, and what does Moore Haven amount to now as a trucking section, compared to what it used to be?
